Shelby Herrmann & Tees Cee Dees Score at National Western in Denver

By Tanya Randall

South Texas native Shelby Herrmann has mastered the challenging setup at the National Western in Denver, and it doesn't matter which horse she's riding. In 2015, Herrmann guided her two-time National High School Finals Rodeo qualifier TS Doc San Lena to a reserve championship at Denver. This year, it was Tees Cee Dees ("TC") carrying her to a $11,387 victory.

Following the same path to success as in 2015, Herrmann chose to run in the early in the rodeo, which had back-to-back performance for your first- and second-go runs.

"We were first out in the first round and last out in the second round," Herrmann said. "He had almost the exact same run every time. He obviously liked Denver a lot."

Herrmann and TC's 15.30 ended up splitting the first round with Dena Kirkpatrick and Kates Always First. They were third in the second go with a 15.35, which was won by Kali Parker and Tuneful. In the Finals, Herrmann and TC placed fourth with a 15.46.

Although they had the winning average of 46.11, a mistake on the results posted on the Jumbo Tron in the arena meant Mary Walker, who had posted the winning run in the Finals aboard her World Champion mount Perculatin, was mistakenly awarded the average title.

"In the first round, Mary and I were the first two out and the timer didn't work," Herrmann explained. "They looked at the backup times and got them right, but they never got them correct on the board (Jumbo Tron). Mary tried to tell them they had it wrong, but when they finally check the official times, they found their mistake. My sister had text me to tell me she thought they had figured wrong so I was already on my way up there to check. Right when I was walking in, they called me and told me I had won."

Herrmann, who grew up in Orange Grove, Texas, near Corpus Christi, had let her sister Mollee take Doc to her high school rodeos, so she had to ride TC at Denver this year.

"She kicked butt on him," said Herrmann proudly. "She won the rodeo Saturday and was second or third the next day, so it was worth it. She actually started out not liking Doc and I had to convince her to get on him in the first place."

Her sister may get to run Doc again at the big youth rodeo held along with the pro rodeo in San Antonio, depending on how Herrmann draws.

TC, a 12-year-old bay gelding, has been a part of Herrmann's

Schiller Ranch Presents Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic 2016

Schiller Ranch is proud to announce the Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic dates for the 2016 event to be held in Bryan, Texas at the Brazos County Expo Center from March 7th through March 13th.

The 5th annual DDBHC will benefit K9s4Cops charity which purchases and places professionally trained K9s with law enforcement agencies across the country. For more information on the charity recipient, please visit www.K9s4Cops.org.

Kristi Schiller, founder of K9s4Cops, says that a police service dog is a very important tool for a law enforcement agency. "Police canines are very efficient and can accomplish a task that could take several officers much longer to do. Any accomplished law enforcement agency comprehends how vital a well-trained K9 team can be to their department in keeping the community safe."

Barrel horse riders from all over the world will converge on the Brazos County Expo Center this March to compete in what has become one of the nation's premier barrel horse events. In 2015, DDBHC gave away almost $1,000,000 in cash and prizes.

"Bryan Expo is the place to be in March if you want to compete with the best," said Latricia Duke, co-founder of Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic. "Diamonds & Dirt is a premier barrel futurity in the state of Texas and known around the world as a first class event."

The Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic offers free admission to spectators.

string since June of last year. Bred by Leon Turnbow of Enid, Okla., TC is by late leading barrel horse sire Bully Bullion out of Erin To Win, by the Thoroughbred Will Win.

“We got him through Reggie Herring,” Herrmann explained. “She had him and was selling him for some friends of hers. Kimmi Byler knew we were looking for a horse and she was like, ‘You need to go try this horse, I promise.’”

After competing at the College National Finals in Casper, Wyo., Herrmann, a business major at Tarleton State University in Stephenville, Texas, flew to Oklahoma City to try TC, while her mother, sister and a friend hauled Doc to Santa Fe, N.M., for the pro rodeo. Herrmann made her first competitive run on TC in the first round at Reno, where they ended up tied for seventh in the go.

“He’s really supposed to be my outdoor, summer horse, but obviously he likes indoors too,” said Herrmann, who wanted to thank her parents Lee and Lori Herrmann and her sponsors Med-Vet Pharmaceuticals and Storm Field Services of Robstown, Texas, who made the purchase TC possible. “I just like run him everywhere. Honestly, between him and Doc, it’s just who I think feels like running.”

Herrmann has had Doc, a 15-year-old bay gelding, in her barn for four years. Bred by T & S Quarter Horses of Fairmont, Neb., Doc is by Ciscos Lena out of Cheri Blossum Doc, by Peppy Docsan—who is most well-known as the broodmare sire of the late great aged event horse Nutin But A Houndog. Prior to Herrmann’s purchase of the gelding, he went to the National High School Finals Rodeo in the pole bending.

With her dual threat, Herrmann is anxiously looking forward to the 2016 rodeo season. Her game plan is mostly the same, but having finished 22nd in the WPRA World Standings with $50,615 in 2015, she qualified for the better paying winter rodeos, namely San Antonio and Houston, this year.

For the 2nd Time in a few short weeks; Mary Walker & Perculatin (Latte) won an Invitational Shootout and the winners check for $10,000, so we thought it was a good time to catch up with her.

After winning the Shootout in Denver; they came back home to win this week's Fort Worth Super Shootout. It is safe to say Walker & Latte love the back to back run format of the Shootouts!

BRR: So this is your second Shootout win in the last couple weeks, what are the keys to you and Latte's success at these Shootouts with their back to back runs setup?

Walker: Latte has always loved the back to back runs. He seems to get more fired up. He is always faster the second time. It is about 30-45 minutes between your first run and your second. It doesn't seem like a lot of time but you just keep him walking, take his boots off and clean his legs and a drink of water and it's time for the next run.

I know these don't count for WPRA points but they pay $10,000 and that sure helps with the expenses of going down the road.

BRR: Can you talk a little about these Shootouts and how they fit in to your rodeo schedule?

Walker: These two Shootouts; Denver and Ft.Worth, were perfect timing. There was not really a lot going on. I just hope they invite me to the rest of them! I know I am not in Houston and the next one is San Angelo so hopefully I will get invited. The Shootouts are invitation only.

BRR: How is Latte feeling and what are your plans for 2016?

Walker: Latte is feeling great. I plan to try to make the Finals again. I will go back to Canada some this summer. I didn't qualify for Calgary from the Finals so I will go a little harder this winter to try and qualify that way.

Pedone Victorious at Pac West Futurity

By Hope Sickler

The very talented trainer Ryann Pedone ventures to Arizona after the holidays every year to get some serious seasoning and training done on her current and upcoming futurity horses. Over the last few years she has not left Arizona empty-handed and this year was no exception. Pedone and Streakin Queenie marked their name in the dirt when they finished reserve champions at the Greg Olson Futurity and then came back the following weekend to win the Pac West Futurity.

"This mare (Celsey) is nothing short of spectacular. She has been so much fun to train and ride and every time I get to swing a leg over her it's a victory to me," said Pedone.

The Shoppa Ranch owns the little 14 hand mare who is a 2012 daughter of A Streak Of Fling and out of Queen Fa Time by Dash Ta Fame.

"I typically go up to the Fulton Sale every year and ride a few prospects that my clients are interested in. When I went up to the 2014 production sale, I didn't have "Celsey" picked out in the catalog but as soon as I rode her, I knew she had to come home with me. I called the Shoppa's and told them that if they didn't want her we were going to buy her because we could see the potential this mare had. The Shoppa's ended up buying her and I got her in December 2014."

It was like fate and it didn't take long for "Celsey" and Pedone to start clicking and understanding one another.

"I brought her to Arizona last winter and just rode her and got her out places. She is a corky thing, a feel good little filly, and so hauling her around while we were in Arizona was so great for her. I then lightly started her on the pattern and it was all so natural to her. I didn't start exhibiting her until October but it worked out great," explained Pedone.

Pedone and "Celsey" made their first competitive showing at the BFA in December and placed in the first round of the juvenile and hit a barrel in the second round to come back high in the average.

"We weren't sure how quickly we were going to start asking her because we wanted her to be totally confident before so. After the BFA, we knew that she was confident and enjoying the added speed and pressure."

Placing in the first round of the Classic Equine Futurity and winning reserve at the Greg Olson, Pedone and the little mare were off to a great start.

“Going into the Pac West, I was feeling good about the page that we were on with one another. She worked great in both rounds of the Pac West, running two 17.4’s. The biggest thing with her (“Celsey”) is you have to stay quiet and ride her to my points and the rest is easy. She is very correct and does everything so natural.”

Pedone is hopeful for the 2016 futurity season and is anxious to see what it has in store for her and “Celsey” and the rest of her very talented bunch of horses. They will head to the Lance Graves, The Patriot, Diamonds and Dirt and a few others before making the trek east to Ft. Smith.

“I am not a trainer that puts pressure on my horses. I do a lot of slow work and riding out. I don’t run my horses hardly at all at home. I like to keep my horses quiet and working slow and correct. I also like them to learn how to run up underneath me and gain more confidence in themselves,” concluded Pedone.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

In Mark 11:22-23 Jesus says, "For verily I say unto YOU, that WHOSOEVER shall say unto this mountain (problem in life), be thou removed and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in HIS heart, but shall believe that those things which HE saith shall come to pass; HE shall have whatsoever HE saith."

That's a lot of "saithing"! The bottom line is, YOUR mountain needs to hear YOUR voice. It's so simple. You find the promise in the Bible that covers that situation and you speak that and that only out of your own mouth. You're talking the answer, not rehearsing the problem. So many times we want to talk the problem to death and that changes nothing. But if you put your mouth on the answer, it changes your mindset and you begin to see that God has the answer and you are receiving that answer. If we do that, when trouble comes, it can't stay around very long!

I heard a neat definition of "whosoever".
Anybody can.
Everybody won't.
BUT SOMEBODY WILL!

That somebody should be you and I, the victorious ones!
